

FOR PRESIDENT:
WM. JENNINGS BRYAN OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
JOHN W. KERN,
OF INDIANA

THE Missouri Republicans now profess to be in favor of honest elections. Can the leopard change his spots?

THE Potosi Journal refers to Geo. D. Reynolds, the Republican nominee for the Court of Appeals, as a lawyer of "exceptional ability." This will be news to the fraternity in general.

THE Folk literary bureau is again at work. It furnishes news items for some papers and editorial matter for others. In the last issue of the Lead Belt News we see what purports to be a news item from St. Louis telling how the primary election has improved the chances of the Governor for the U. S. Senatorship. We also find the same article, word for word, printed as an editorial in the Rolla Times.

WILL some of our Democratic editor friends tell us just how Mr. Bryan and their party, if successful in the election next fall, propose to change the social and political affairs of the nation for the better? Don't give us a generalization in reply, but point out a few specific points in the policy of your party that will accomplish the asserted result.—Potosi Journal.

THE REGISTER is always ready to dispense light and knowledge to its less informed brethren. But we believe in reciprocity. For almost a year, now, we've been trying to get the Potosi Journal or some other protective tariff organ in Southeast Missouri, to explain to us the cause of the low price of lead for the past year or more. We all know what caused the high prices previous to that time. It was the Dingley tariff. All the protective tariff organs told us so, the Journal along with the rest of them. What caused the slump, Bro. Degendorf? We have just claim to the floor. Answer our question, Bro. D., and we'll answer yours.

It seems that the people of the northern and of our Congressional district have excellent memories for insults, either real or fancied. When Ex-Senator Lee, Chairman of the Central Committee of this county and ex-officio member of the Committee for the district, presented the name of J. M. Carahan to that body as a candidate for State Committeeman, the Hon. Mr. Edgar, Presidential elector for the district and small potentate over the committee, said quite pointedly that they did not want to elect these d—d people who signed petitions for the pardon of the Spangh boys. It will be remembered that a petition or two was circulated here some years ago, and the people of the northern end of the district do not care to favor any of our citizens nor elect a man to the State Committee who would favor Folk for Senator, inasmuch as Governor Folk issued the instrument which gave Spangh his freedom.—The Current Local.

The Spangh "boys" were not pardoned, but they escaped as well deserved hanging as the records of time can parallel. The murder of Sheriff Polk was most brutal, and the law and every decent citizen of Iron county and the State of Missouri were outraged by the Spanghs' escaping the gallows. Like Mr. Edgar, I have no use for any man who abetted them either before or after the murder. If his taking this stand makes him a "potentate," he is honored in the designation.

From Goodland.

The drought is very materially injuring the growing corn.

Orville Crocker has returned home after working some weeks in Bellevue.

The Pryor brothers, with Walt Mayfield, attended a wedding on Huzza last Sunday.

G. G. Adams traded a horse to Wm. Crocker for a wagon.

Mr. Brooks and Tony, with Cliff and Ran Adams, attended the horse show at Belgrade lately.

A stockman from Illinois passed through this vicinity last week offering very low prices for cattle and mules.

James Brooks attended the sale at Arthur Sloan's near Bellevue.

Drs. Barton and Adams have been unusually busy during the past three weeks. There is quite a lot of sickness about Goodland.

The three year old child of Mrs. Jack Keath died of scarlet fever and consequently the schools were closed. Don and Blanche Eaton and Randolph Adams closed school until further orders.

Mr. Nelson's house was placed under quarantine. The little babe of George Stricklin is very ill at this writing. Also Mrs. Marion Crocker and three children with malaria. Grace Shrum and Una Short are getting better. We hope the single case of scarlet fever will suffice for our community.

Monroe Mayfield and family of Leadwood are visiting relatives here.

Miss Conway of Cub Creek attended church at Goodland last Sunday. Rev. Chester failed to fill his regular appointment. Dr. Adams conducted the service.

Mr. Newman and wife of Chicago were the guests of his sister, Mrs. J. S. Eaton, last week.

J. N. Eaton of Crawford county spent a couple of days of last week with his mother at Goodland. Mrs. Edythe Eaton and children, who have made a long visit to Goodland relatives, are now visiting her parents on Otter.

Dr. J. Q. Adams and family stopped over a day or two at the old home on their way to Crawford county to visit Mrs. Adams' parents.

Most of the children now have new books.

S. S. Convention in Bollinger.

BESSVILLE, MO., Aug. 22, 1908.

Ed. Register—While visiting relatives in Bollinger county, it was my privilege to attend the sixth Annual Sunday School Convention held in the M. E. Church South, August 19-20.

The first arrival at the home of the Secretary was E. E. Lacy, State Secretary of the Sunday School Association, just at noon. Rev. S. D. Jewell, D. D. of Fredericktown arrived two hours later. It was the hottest day I have known this summer in Missouri. We sat out of doors, the visitors cracking nuts and jokes until a shower drove them in. Two more delegates arrived during the storm. We began to think the evening session would have to be held in this home if at all, but the rain stopped in time. The church was well filled and the convention began with real interest.

Thursday morning the usual programme of a Sunday School Convention was carried out. One of the best talks was on "The Sunday School as an Institution" by Rev. J. M. Welker. It was short and to the point. One great fault in speakers of such a convention is the dragging out to a weary length what might be said, with a few well chosen words, in a short time.

Dr. Jewell's address was the last on the morning program. His subject, "The Sunday School Work in South East Missouri," as he presented it, was so interesting we could easily have listened for an hour, but he would not keep the hungry men and tired children waiting for their dinner which was spread on the lawn. As we sat around the bountiful lunch—spring seats from the wagon were given to the old folks—I wished for a kodak and the pen of a ready writer. I never saw more perfect order at a picnic. The grove of trees furnished a background of surpassing beauty to one whose eyes had longed, from the open plain, for a sight of the green hills of the Ozark Mountains.

The afternoon session was all business, the election of officers, financial statement etc., until Mr. Lacey's report of the Louisville Convention. He is a good speaker and made one glad to be identified with so great an organization.

At 4:30 the Convention adjourned to meet next year at the call of the Executive Committee, and the people wended their way home over the roughest roads it has been my lot to see in many a day. Tired? Yes, but it was worth the effort.

One noticeable feature of the gathering was the number of babies present. Their voices were often heard and sometimes to the annoyance of the hearers, but only for a minute, as the mothers were used to taking their children to church and had them under good control. If President Roosevelt still feels any uneasiness over race suicide it would quell his fears and do him good to visit the country churches in Bollinger County.

Something for the Women.

With its issue of Sunday, Aug. 30, the Sunday St. Louis Post-Dispatch will present a unique feature especially for the woman folk, and free, too.

The gift will be a section of fashions, patterns and designs. Its great value will make it wonderfully attractive to women and its value lies in the fact that it will save the woman from 10 to 75 cents or several hours time required by the old method of tracing designs. The designs will be printed in special ink, the secret of which makes it possible by a simple method to speedily transfer to any fabric. This can be done without injury even to the finest piece of goods. Ordinary soap and water will remove the transfer if and when desired.

The designs will cost Sunday Post-Dispatch readers nothing. They will be practical. A transfer may be made in a few seconds; in fact several transfers may be made from the same sheet.

The need is apparent and the Sunday Post-Dispatch is fortunate in obtaining for its readers a feature of so much value. Practically every thing a woman wears these days has some sort of handwork on it—shirt waists, collars, sleeves, corset covers and handkerchiefs. For the household there are pillowcases, center-pieces, doilies, table and bed linen. The list is a long one.

By its simple and effective method the Sunday Post-Dispatch will put designs for these within easy reach of all.

Bids for Repairing Pagoda.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the County Court of Iron county, at the adjourned August term, 1908, of said court, until noon, Tuesday, September 1, 1908, for repairing the Band Pagoda in the southeast corner of the courthouse yard, said bid to cover cost for work and material, as follows: eight pillars, 12x8 inches at base, 8x8 inches at top, and 5 feet high, to be placed in ground 16 inches; also two pillars for steps, 8x8 inches—said pillars to be made of brick, concrete or stone; also for furnishing lumber and laying floor and building steps—said lumber to be oak or pine. Also two coats of paint on pagoda, inside and out, roof and floor included. Bids to be filed with the county clerk. The court reserves the right to reject any and all bids. For further particulars, apply to

JOS. A. REYBURN,
County Clerk.

Warning

If you have kidney and bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Sold by all druggists.
